A WORD FROM OUR PRESIDENT...

Hi Everyone,

Welcome Back to another Flyers Hockey Season! By the time you read this, training camp for the 2014-2015 season will be underway and the first home pre-season game will be in the books. I am looking forward to the home opener and all of the Hall of Fame nights this season.

First off, I want to wish Flyers defenseman Kimmo Timonen best wishes for a complete recovery from the blood clots he is suffering from. Our wish is to see him healthy most importantly and hopefully able to play later in the season. Secondly, I am looking forward to new General Manager Ron Hextall's first season in his new position with the Flyers. We as fans need to be patient and allow Ron to work his magic.

At the last officer's meeting, by a unanimous vote, Lou Milano was voted a lifetime board member after 30 plus years working with the Fan Club. I want to congratulate Lou on a position well deserved. Lou is also our trip czar. Please be sure to read in this issue of "The Puck" the trip list Lou has prepared. Hopefully we will see you all on one or more trips this season. Puck Editor Lois Witulski is always looking for interesting articles for our newsletters. If you go on a trip or visit another arena on your own or even meet your favorite player, please consider writing an article for all to enjoy.

Best Wishes to our Flyers team for a great start to the 2014-2015 season.

It was a beautiful evening at the ballpark on August 19th, when approximately 25 PFFC members and friends attended the Phillies game vs. the Seattle Mariners. Although the Phillies lost the game, it was great to see everyone during the long summer away from hockey.

Speaking of baseball, how about those Taney Dragons?? With the Phillies season going so badly and both hockey and football still a month or two away, it was truly exciting to watch this amazing group of young athletes. The maturity and composure of the Taney team was something to be admired and true example of what it means to be a team. Even though the Dragons fell short of the championship games, for those few short weeks during the Little League World Series, it was great fun for Philadelphia sports fans to have something to cheer about. Congratulations to the Taney Dragons for a job well done!!

I am looking forward to Flyers training camp and the start of the new season. Can't wait to see what Coach Berube and new Flyers GM Ron Hextall have planned for the team! Go Flyers!!

This would be a perfect time to cross these arenas from your bucket list. Plus it's a holiday weekend!! Columbus's downtown setup is pretty neat, with many places to eat and drink while Nationwide Arena is one the best arenas in the NHL. There are lots of great things to do and see in Buffalo. Chomp down some wings at the Anchor Bar; take a small excursion to Canada (passport required). The HSBC arena is another newer type arena surrounded by local watering holes and great places to eat. The trip will depart 5 AM 2/13/15, arrive in Columbus around 1 PM and check into the Crowne Plaza hotel, located a couple blocks from Nationwide Arena where we'll watch the Flyers battle the Columbus Blue Jackets that evening (7:05 PM). On 2/14/15, we'll head to Buffalo where we'll spend that night at the Hampton Inn Downtown (there's a chocolate pub located inside the hotel). Tales of a Rookie by Beth Krummert

The second weekend in August every year means it is time for the NHLBC Convention. This year I had the opportunity to be able to attend the convention which was held in St. Louis. It was a great distraction from summer hockey withdrawal to get together with other hockey fans from around the league. As a rookie it's a little intimidating when everyone else knows one another but it turns out that everyone is just one big family who welcome newcomers like they'd been there the whole time. Even though when one needs a drink, snack or a helping hand, they tend to call on a rookie for help, it is all in good fun.

Hanging out with our hockey family and seeing the sites of St. Louis was an experience I will never forget. On Friday I took the "Beer Barons Tour", which included a full brewery tour at Anheuser Busch and the Busch family's private retreat, Grant's Farm. We got to see the world famous Clydesdales up close and personal, along with other animals on the grounds. I thought it would feel like I was a third wheel but it turned out that within no time at all it felt as if we'd all been friends for years. It was great to hear the guest speaker, Blues defenseman Bob Plager speak of his time as a player in the league. Many laughs were had by all. Survivor night was a blast and a great experience for everyone, especially a rookie, but you need to attend to find out what it is all about. I can't wait for next year in Nashville to see everyone again and hopefully many new faces too.

Note: The 2015 NHLBC Convention, will be held in Nashville on August 7-9th, 2015 and hosted by the Detroit Red Wings For'em Club. More details in the next Puck issue.
